Greeley offers some good advice to the friends of McClelian. He says better keep his name ont of the ring for the present. This is for the benefit of McClelian, no doubt, and to aid his friends; and we, therefore, hope that Greeley will not aid in using him up, but play fair in this matter. We don't know yet how McClellan will do. So far, he has shown himeif a discreet man.

Both McCiellan and Campheil are better Union men than Greeiey and his friends. Indeed, the latter are not Union men at all: far from it. But Greeley has an eye to slavery alone, and he is sure that all others are of the same way of thinking. Now, experience shows that the Union did very well with slavery in The white man did well, and the negro far better than he ever did elsewhere. We prefer letting well enough alone. One proposes to divide the Government, the other to destroy its prin ciples. Whether McCiellan will be the mar six or eight months hence, we shall see.

Gen, Smith, M C. from this State, has gotten up a series of resolutions. Among other determined resoives there is one that "we oppose any armistice, or intervention, or mcdiation, or proposition for peace from any quarter, so long as there shall be found a rebel in arms against the Government." That is what we call thorough. The establishment was full of lunatics of both Department. When Dawes stated the annual sexes. Among them was a young man about twenty-five years of age, who was usually kept in a separate cell with a straight waistcoat on. On the day before the fire he was visited by some of his relatives, who requested the director to release him from that confluence. As he then appeared more tranquil, it was done. The following day he by some was soon burnt, and the tire afterward caugh wood-work, with which all the ceils the violent innatics were fleed, and next burnt through the ceiling to the floor above.

This task was at length accomplished, and the guardians and others were congratulating themselves that no lives had been lost, when, ou making another round among the cells, they found that six of the females had rushed back unobserved into the flames, where they met a terrible death. Letter from Tennessee.

ROCKFORD, TENN., November 12, 1363. Messrs. Editors: On the 11th of November he veritable W. G. Brownlow issued the first umber of the "Knoxville Whig," about which he has made so much noise since his expulsion from Knoxville. He takes a tilt at every thing and every body. He seems to be so snrcharged with gall and bitterness that, like a wounded adder, he does not know where nor how to make his first licks—though he keeps-it constantly before his readers that he intends to ventilate the "hell-hounds and hell-deserving sconndreis" who oppressed him and destroyed his valuable estate, which consisted in a limited salary to edit a third-rate newspaper. He complains hitterly that rate newspaper. He complains bitterly that religion is "about played out" in Knoxville, and, in his attempt to "warn sinners to flee the wrath to come," he fills his paper with such divine expressions as "hell-hounds," with all the world when he access the pec-ple of Louisville and Lexington of being of "little nerve on the Union cause," and that ple of Louisville and Lexington of being of "little nerve on the Union cause," and that they arrested afteen thousand stand of arms intended for East Tennessee. He sacers at Kentucky neutrality, and charges her people with reinsing to "allow arms to go South to war upon their erring Southern brethren, or soldiers to come from the South to war upon the lawful, government of the country." This will be news to a very large majority of the people of Kentacky, and especially to the forty-four thousand she aent between this par excellent Union man, W. G. Brownlow, and dauger, when he fied to her border and asked for protection, which hereceived. This is not received very gratefully by any man in any one of the nine Kenincky regider and asked for protection, which he received. This is not received very gratefully by any man in any one of the nine Kenincky regiments now here protecting his printing press while he so grossly misrepresents the land of their birth—a heritage and the good name of which all of them would fight for with a right good will, and love to hate any who will presume to sneer at or slander their native S'ate.

"And thus was East Tennessee placed between two fires—rebel bayonets on the one side and Kentncky peace—makers on the other—and flanked beside." O, shame for this! And flanked by whom? It must have been by the veritable Browniow and his Book of Markeys. This no one would have account.

They would have commenced the work on the adjournment of the Greeneville Convention. Fifteen thousand stand of small arms were sent forward for the use of East Tennessee loyalists, by the Federal authorities, but they were arrested at Louisville and Lexington, ov those of little nerve and resolution in the Union cause, or those who were of strong Secesh proclivities, in neutral Kentucky, who said they would not allow arms to go Sonth to war upon their erring Sonthern brethren, nor soldiers to come from the South to war upon the lawful Government of the country! Thus was East Tennessee placed between two fires—rebel bayonets on the one side, and Kentucky peace-makers on the other—and flanked beside. Kentucky has paid, in part, tor her neutrality, and we should shed no tears if she were to soffer twice as much more it would be a just reward for her vascillat

As an evidence of the number of Union defenders that could have been enlisted in East Tennessee, if the Federal Government had Tennessee, it the Federal Government had furnished them with arms and army supplies, we have only to glance at the number of recruits that crossed over the mountains late. mildst of the bazards of such a trip, and went in the Union army. But we sat cut to speak of East Tennessee North and South, and slong the borders. The cople of East Tennessee have, first and last people of East Tennessee have, first and last, acclared their nudying allegiance to their country, as true and loyal citizens of the United States. They have, from the beginning, upported the Constitution of the United States, and clurg to it as the palladium of heir liberties. And why? Because they were Union men, and being convinced that their peace, presperity and happiness depended upon the preservation of the Federal Union, they were in favor of maintaining it, at all hazards and to the last extremity, with or without slavery. Glorious East Tennessee Union men! They phoid the Government of the United States and declare themselves to be the friends of its friends and the foes of its foes. May they live forever, and their patriotism be the theme of poets and historians, antil Old Time is dead of poets and nistorians, intil Old Time is dead and gone! A large number of the half notes, certified to have heen burned, were also found in a trunk upon Cornweil's premises, which he had purposed to burn over sgain instead of the whole notes, which he proposed to abstract. Cornwall, in his confession, declares that he first abstracted notes to demonstrate to the Tressurer that the thing was practicable; but, before doing so, yielded to the temptation, and sent $4,000 worth of demand no es to New York, where they were sold at a high premium. The success of this first operation encouraged him to undertake others. A boy who was present at the burning of the notes detected him in abstracting some, and furnished the first information sgainst him to the authorities.

A PROFITABLE STOCK OF FOWLS.—The Boston Cuitivator of December 12th makes the following statement:

Knowing that Hiram W. In compliance with that request he has given us certain memorands for compliance this! And flanked by whom? It must have been by the veritable Browniow and his Book of Martyrs. This no one would have expected from Brownlow, although there are a large number of people, both North and Sonth, who believe him capable of committing any act that ministers of the Gospel ordinarily shrink from.

He claims that twenty thousand East Tennesseeans crossed the monutains and entered the service. When and where! is the universal question that will be asked on this subject, and no one will be found who can successfully answer it. East Tennessee has suffered munch, and many of her people have been shamefully treated for opinion askenober, murdiced and incarcerated in prison.

GEN GRANT IN A HORSE TRADE .- A Congressmen on the train to-day entered is a conversation about the merits of differ Generals in our army, in the course of wh one of them told the following story

General Grant:

"I knew Ulysses Grant when he was hoy. We used to go to school toge."
Coorgotown, Brown county, Ohio. The boused to plague him dreadfully about a hor trade he once made. When he was about twelve years old, his father sent him a few miles into the cometry to buy a horse from a man named Raiston. The old man told Ulysses to offer Raiston fifty dellars at first; if he wouldn't take that, to offer fifty-five dollars, and to go as high as six y dollars if no less would make the purchase. The embry-otic Major General started off with these instructions fully impressed upon his mind, ile called upon Mr. Ralston, and told him he wished to bny the horse.

"'Why,' asid Ulysses, 'he toid me to offer you fifty dollars, and, if that wouldn't do, to give you fifty-five collars, and if you wouldn't take less than slxty dollars to give you that.'

"Of course, sixty dollars was the lowest figure, and, on the pyment of that amount, the animal became the property of the young Napoieon."—[Philadelphia Press, 9th inst.

THE ADVANTAGE OF WRITING A BAD HAND. An English paper says:

went home he asked leave to print it, telling him he thought they could tell a hundred, mountain gorges, and languished in Sonthern prisons; and thousands were conscripted, put in Irons, and forced into an army they despised, and to fight for a cause they hated.

Thousands more were secreted in the mountain gorges, and languished in Sonthern ont badly himself. Upon his asking the century why, he explained that if the copy was plain it would be put into the hands of the worst compositors; whereas if it was written badly the best hands would get it, and the work would be best hands would get it. One great barrier to the success of the Fedoral we and thus we and the beginning of the war is its not encouraging enterprizing Union men, by giving them the means of defease and anthorgiving the m ldly.
One great barrier to the success of the Federal man in the beginning of the war is its with Robert Southey, the poet, we alluded to giving them the means of defease and anthority to act offensively in their own way, untrammeted by the control and orders of strangers, Iguorant not only of the topography of the country, but even the feelings and impulses of the people. Those who inhabit a country can wage war a great deal more successfully in that country, than those who are entire strangers.

IDAHO.—The election of a Territorial Delegate at d members of the fir t Legisliure esme off on the last day of October. Governor Wailace is reported elected. Several gentlement arrived here by last Express from "Eastern Bannock" on Sunday evening on their way to Washington, to effect, if possible, the division of the Territory. The deep shows intervening between the mines in the east and the seat of Government in the west is the chief reason assigned for the denvand of separation. To attend the Legislature, on Monday next, the members from the east will have to make a detour of nearly a thousand miles. N. P. Langford, E. q. one of the members of the Upper Honse, from whom we had a call on Monday, represents the prospect very fluttering to the minors, especially at the Stinkwater diggings. An accession of forty thousand miners is looked for next summer. The reports of abundant gold in the Yellew

We publish a letter from East Tennesee, written by a Union man who has proved his faith by his works, inclosing an article from the Knoxviile Whig, edited by Parson Brown-

Just before the Whig stopped, in 1861, the editor appeared in the transition State, half Secesh, haif Union. The same phenomenon appeared in numerous Southern presses that had been Union. It was uniformly succeeded by violent spasms of seccession, which settled | culty. "Perfide Albion" sent Louis Napoleon's nto the chronio distemper. Brownlow was in this state, and considering his proclivities divided the map of Europe into sections, to for the wrong side, it is a miracle that he was which Spain says: not off to Dixie, and that he did not send the United States to that warm country whither he sends every one that doesn't please him. But he has kept up his character and fulfilled his mission better by showing how wrong he can be in the right way. A more inconsistent, absurd spec'men of humanity than this same Parson Brownlow can't be found.

He, a Tennesseean, railing at Kentucky nentrality; talking about Union men in Lonisville and Lexington wanting nerve! Here is Kentncky in the Union, refusing to tie herself to South Carolina, as Tennessee did, like a tail to a kite. She has snffered most by the iil conduct of Tennessee, who ought to have stood by her and the Union.

But away went Brownlow's party and Andy Johnson's party. No wonder, with such eaders, that the State went off into folly and wickedness of the worst kind. The behavior of these same leaders now repels Tennessee rom the Union to-day. We don't know but would have been a blessing to the Union canse if they had both gone Secesh: The rebels, we notice, released Brownlow, and ent him to onr lines. To the Advertising Patrons of Democrat. We have already notified many of the advertising patrons of the Democrat that owing to the advancing price of everything used in the publication of a newspaper, and the increased wages of printers and others, we are compelled to adopt a new scale of rates, to nmence on the 1st of January, 1864. We have inclosed a circular to our adver tisers generally. The rates will apply to all old patrons, as well as new ones. This change is imperatively demanded by our increased expense in producing the paper, and is reinctantly asked. When the greatly increased circulation of the Democrat is taken into account, the schedule rates do not make it more costly in proportion to publicity given than it has been heretofore. If any of our old pstrons do not fee inclined to adopt the new rates they will please inform us; and should we not, in a reasonable space of time, hear from them, we shall consider them as having assented to the changes. If any desire to change their mode of advertising, or to increase or reduce the quantity of matter, they will please call at the dc29 dtf

A MAN ATTEMPTS TO MURDER MIS WIFE .-Testerday a most cowardly and ontrageous attempt at marder was made upon the person of Mrs. Conley, by her husbaud, Ed. Conley, at about 5 o'clock in the morning. The parties reside on Main street, between Tenth which their few rags were put, and the wretch- out of and Eleventh, and at the hour named Conley ed group sent to Jeffersonville, where the man returned home under the influence of strong drink, seized his wife by the throat, he thurst into her mouth the point of a grass-hook, and by twisting and turning it around; he lnflicted upon her a very serious wound, which may prove fatal. Her mouth and throat are badlylcut, and the jugular vein was nearly severed. Some one in the house who heard the difficulty went for an officer, and returned with officer Green, who was accompanied by two citizens. When officer Green went to agrest the inhuman fiend, he turned upon hlm with a knife, indicting a very serious cut In the officer's left hand, and the wretch also ent the two citizens who accompanied the officer. After a short time the ruffish and assassiu was arrested and lodged in jail. The reason given by Conley for the murderons asssult was, that his wife had been unfaithful, and had been too intimate with a number of her male friends. Mrs. Conley had received the visits of one of her old friends, and Conley became so jealous of his wife that he attempted to take her life. His case will be investigated before Judge Johnston as soon as the condition of his wife will admit.

THE EESTIVAL CONCERRY last evening at Masonic 'emple, by Mr. Whipple's juvenile class, was one of the rarest treats of the holidays, and was enjoyed by one of the largest andlences we have ever seen congregated in the Temple. The singing was excellent throughout, and elicited that generous applance which is always one, and not the least valuable rewards of merit. Mr. Whipple may justly feel proud of the bri liant success of his concert and also of the large and appreclative andience that witnessed lt, and we hope the complimentary reception of the class by our citizens will be a suffi cient inducement for Mr. Whipple to afford them, at no distant day, another opportunity of listening cased before the ladies came to the house; to the exquisite melody which last evening so a dress with considerable bood on it was excompletely charmed all who were so fortunate a completely charmed all who were so fortunate as

Heimstreet's Inimitable Hair Restora-

It is not a dye, but restores gray hair to its original color, by supplying the capillary tubes with natural anstenance, impaired by age or disease. All instantaneous dyes are composed of lunar caustic, destroying the vitality and beauty of the hair, and afford of themselves no dressing. Helmstreet's Inimitable Coloring not only restores hair to its natural color by an easy process, but gives the hair a luxuriant beauty, promotes its growth, prevents its failing cff, eradicates dandruff, and imparts health and olcasantness to the head. It has stood the test of time, being the original Hair Coloring, and is constantly increasing in favor. Used by both gentlemen and ladies. It is sold by all respectable dealers, or can be procured by them of the commercial agents. D. S. Barnes & Co., 202 Broadway, New York. Two sizes, 50 cents and $1. oc18 d&weow6m

JUST THE THING FOR A NEW YEAR'S PRES-

ENT .- The very best thing for a New Year's present ls a Grover & Baker sewing machine. Thousands of them have already been converted into as many souvenirs the present sea son, and the happy recipients of them will have, daily and hourly, ample cause for thanking and thinking of the donors. A mereiv ornamental present may captivate the eve for a time, but It is only the really useful that, like true friendship, stands the test of tline. In buying a sewing machine, however, for a present or otherwise, to get the best should be the alm of the purchaser, for many machines in the market lead only to bitter disappointment and "grashing of teeth." Not so with the incomparable and unapproached Grover & Baker, which, like the good Samaritan that it is, quietly performs its great abundance of good smid the smiles and heartfelt thankfulness of the members of the family circle or the workshop. For years it has stood the severe test of hourly experience, and has lived down hundreds of mushroom sewing machines, and bids, even now, to drive to merited obscurity many others that we wot of. which even the most strennous puffing and the most stupendons falsehoods can hardly keep afloat. Increased facilities enable the monufacturers to meet the greatly increased demand for the Grover & Baker, but those who design purchasing a sewing machine had better inspect, without delay, the number daily in active operation at the Grover & Baker sewing machine company's establishment, to operate, easily learned, not liable to get out of order, capable of making a seam that will never rip, sdapted to the entire range of family sewing, one that embroiders splendidly, and, in short, the best and the cheapest sewing

OBITUARY.

Thon art gone, dear Brother, and left us here,
To battle with the wor ki's cold strife,
Without one single ray to cheer
Thy desolate and heart broken wife—
Without one gle-in—one gilmmering ray,
To cheer us on life stolkome way.

Brother dear, thou art gone, and yet thine eye Looks down noon us when we sleep,

I cannot weap—the fount of tears
Is sealed—my heart is crushed and broke;
'Twas not the gathering mist of years
That dashed my bops—one single stroke
Hath made all dark, all sad, all drear;
My dear Brother's gone and left me here.

I sat heard my brothe;'s bed;
Heard his last wish, his dying word;
Pillowed upon my breast his head;
Dispelled each doubt, soothed every care.
And heard each word that fell,
From those dear fips I loved so well.

I would not call thee back, dearest Brother, I would not have thy spirit fret; I would not have thy heavealy rest, Disturbed by shoughts of earth and me. I would not call thee if I could, To cheer this earthly solitude,

Farewell, thou canst not cheer my soul,
The voice is hushed in death's dark night;
The sky seems but a funeral pall.
To inde me from thy heavenly light.
To me sill is dark and drear with gloom—
My dear Brother Jimmie hes in the tomb.

WASHINGTON, December 30. The following has been received at headnarters of the army: CHATTANOOGA, Dec. 28.

To Moj. Gen. Halleck: Col. Long, of the Fourth Ohio cavalry, commanding Second division of cavalry, reports from Calhoun, December 28th, that the rebel Gen. Wheeler, with twelve or ifteen hundred cavalry and mounted lumantry, at-tacked Col. Liebert and captured a supply train from Chattanooga for Knoxville about train from Chattanooga for Knoxville about 10 o'clock this morning, at Charlestown, on the south bank of the Hiawassec. The train the south bank of the Hiawassee. The train eccort reached the encampment, at Charles town last night, and Col. Liebert's skirmishtown last night, and Col. Liebert's skirmish-ers were hotly engaged with the enemy this morning before Col. Long was apprised of their approach. He immediately moved with the small force fit for duty at the time in his dommand—about one hundred and fifty men—and crossed to Col. Liebert's support.

The robots shortly afterwards way way

The rebels shortly afterwards gave way, Col Long pursuing them closely. Discovering a portion of the control of right, he charged them with sabers, com-pletely demoralizing and scattering them in great fusion in every direction. the enemy—number not known and wounded, and one hundred and twentyone prisoners captured, including five com-missioned officers.

The main rebel column fled, and was pur sued five miles on the Dalton road, and when last seen was fiseling precipitately.

Col. Long's loss was one man slightly wounded The officer in command of the courier station at Cleveland also reports that he was ai-facked early this morning by a force of one handred rebels. He drove them off, however. GEORGE H. THOMAS, Major General Commanding. [Signed]

CAIRO, December 30. The guerrilias along the river have been very quiet since Gen. Elliott's marine brigade has been in the neighborhood, their operations against steambeats being less frequent. The brigade has captured within the past three weeks over fifty prisoners, many of them officers, and upwards of one hundred mules and hores.

The steamer Belle Memphis has arrived.
She has one hadred and seventy bales of cotton for St. Louis.

Memphis dates to the 28th have been received. No news. The sales of cotton at Memphis Saturday were 947 bales. The sales for the week amounted to 1,649 bales, being two hundred and fifty bales less than the pre-vious week. The amount shipped during the week was 2,650 bales, being 577 bales more than the previous week.

A large number of refugees, in a destitute condition, have arrived from Alabama. FORTRESS MONROE, Dec. 30. The Richmond Enquirer of the 24th says "our losses by the enemy gaining possession of East Tennessee are incaicnable. We are not only deprived of the vast flour mills of that country, which previously supplied the whole army, but of vast machine shops expensively organized at Knoxville. Besides ville. this, we are cut off from the coal, iron and CUMBERLAND, MD., Dec. 30.

Gen. Kelly has received information from Gen. Snillvan, the latter getting it from nine deserters just from the Shenandoah valley, that the rebel Gen. Early, with nine thousand men is between Market and Mout Jackson. Gen. Rusier also has seven hundred rebei troops and Gen. Imboden one thousand five hundred men. There is great dissatisfaction among the rebels. Deserters had, heard of the President's proclamation with surprise and hastened to come in. They declare that if the proclamation could be distributed free ly among the rebel troops thousands would at once enter our lines. They say that the proclemation is kept from the men although the officers have read it.

SAN FRANCISCO, December 29. The French paper of this city has received news from the city of Mexico to the 7th lust., the French troops entered Morclia on the 30th of November, without opposition.

Gen. Bertheer had occupied Acumbora.

Gen. Bazine was at Caleiga, where Gen. Commonfort was assassinated, and Meija occuommoufort was assassinated, and Mejia occupied San Mlgnel. Juarez and his Ministers are said to have left for Duriugoe.

Gen. Buzine had concentrated 12,000 French troops at Caleiga, and Gen. Done was at Sala-masca, sixteen leagues from Juana Malta. It is stated that the governments of Holland and Spain have recognized the new Mexican government.

Gen. Legritte has succeeded Gen. Commonfort as Minister of War of Juarez.

The usually well posted correspondent of the Boston Heraid, writing from the fleet off Charleston, dating December 23d, says: "I see by the papers that there is a good deal of uneasiness felt because the pavy here is idle. Let me say that if the people at the North only know the reason why we are ldie they would stop grambling. In due season they will have a chance to rejoice over the doings of the navy before Cearleston to prove that this is no ldie statement. I am willing to wager one hundred dollars with any northern grambler that if everything works recording grambler that if everything works eccording to the plans laid out, Charleston will be oc-capled by the Union forces in sixty days from date."

To Brigadier General Callum, Chief of Staff; General Sullivan's column returned safely, bringing one hundred prisoners, about one hundred horses, equipments, &c. Capturing in all over 400 prisoners and a large quantily of property, my plans and orders have been promptly and faithfully exeented, with a single exception, and with but small loss on our part.

a legitimate amusement. The proceedings of the day before were peculiarly rich in funny reminiscences, and one tall, bright, curlynaired fellow was evelving roars of suppressed laughter by his capital miniery of two of the dullest witnesses. Another was drawing comic profiles of a sleepy jurymen on a scrap of paper. He had previously dashed off a very happy sketch of the coroner, and had shown it to that functionary, who had "hawhawed," and propounced it "devilish good," and, in turn, presented the young artist with a fine Havana eigar, which he playfully put in his mouth and chewed the end of. Yet there

LORD PALMERSTON ON SCOTLAND,-In a seech recently delivered in Scotland, Lord

Palmerston eaid:

I feel a deep interest in Scotland, and a deep seuse of gratitude toward its people. There is poetry and prose in all things. My learned friend, Sir Roderick Murchison, will tell you in prose that a part of Scotland has, within historic periods, risen greatly in the world—that it is twenty-five or thirty feet higher than it formerly was. Scotland, however, has risen in other ways besides the geological, and I would say that there is a difference on this point between poetry and prote. One of your great poets gives a description of Scotland by ne means encouraging, but somewhat gloomy:

"Land of brown heath and shaggy wood, Land of the mountain and the food."

He siterward talks of the ragged stran?, and

He siterward talks of the ragged strand, and altogether gives a very unpromising pic ure of the country. But when we come to prose we find that your brown heath swarms with grouse—[laughler]—that your monntains are teeming with deer and that your monntains are leeming with deer and that your monitains and slive with salmon. [Renewed laughler and cheers.] All these beauts and mountains and foods are sources of great wealth; but taking scotland in a purely protain aspect. I would see that it is a country remarkable for the chigh state of scientific agriculture which is here practiced—for the great prosperity of its annecturing industry and for its successful mercial ent-rprise. [Creens.] I say, i.e., that Scotland has risea beyond its logical elevation, and that it is entered to only to the love and affectly not have derived ben fit from being resuntry, but also stands high in He siterward talks of the ragged strand, an
